

WORKSHOP

Transmission of academic values in Asian Studies

25 & 26 June 2009, Canberra

APCD Lecture Theatre, Hedley Bull Building no. 130 (cnr Liversidge Street and Garran Road)
The Australian National University, Canberra

REGISTER ONLINE NOW

at www.aust-neth.net/workshop.php

Deadline is Friday, 12 June 2009

THEMES:

-  institutional pressures on research
-  inter-generational relations
-  styles of interaction between researchers and postgraduate students
-  markers of scholarly excellence
-  ethical behaviour in research
-  engagement with political and social affairs
-  transmission of values
-  recruiting successive generations of scholars
-  differences between Australia and other countries

PRESENTATIONS:

Presentations will take the form of brief, 'trigger'-style statements as a starting point for discussion. We expect that the workshop will make a valuable contribution to developing a sense of the wide variety of possible best practice in this field. To our knowledge there has been no previous workshop in Asian Studies focussing on the transmission of the distinctive scholarly values of the field in a cross-national comparative perspective. This workshop will contribute to developing research methodology for understanding the internal dynamics of academic life in Asian Studies.

WORKSHOP CONVENOR:

Prof Robert Cribb, robert.cribb@anu.edu.au

SPEAKERS:

Dr Michael Barr, Flinders University
Mr Lowell Bautista, University of Wollongong
Dr Alison Broinowski, University of Wollongong
Dr Matthew Ciolek, The Australian National University
Dr Freek Colombijn, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
Assoc Prof Helen Creese, University of Queensland
Dr Rommel Curaming, National University of Singapore
Ms Thushara Dibley, University of Sydney
Professor Howard Dick, University of Melbourne
Dr Mary Ditton, University of New England
Ms Anna Doukakis, University of New South Wales
Professor Catherine Falk, University of Melbourne
Mr Nicholas Farrelly, The Australian National University
Dr Michele Ford, University of Sydney
Dr Laura Hales, University of South Australia
Dr Niv Horesh, University of New South Wales
Ms Catherine Ingram, University of Melbourne
Professor Toshio Iyotani, Hitotsubashi University
Mr Julius Mollet, Flinders University
Professor Otto van den Muijzenberg, University of Amsterdam
Ms Shyamala Nataraj, Monash University
Dr Nuno Vasco Oliveira, government of Timor-Leste
Dr Jemma Purdey, Monash University
Ms Maloti Ray, University of Melbourne
Professor Anthony Reid, National University of Singapore
Professor Shamsul AB, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia
Dr Andrew Walker, The Australian National University
Dr Mark Winchester, Hitotsubashi University

SUPPORTING ORGANISATIONS:

The Australia-Netherlands Research Collaboration
The Australian National University
Australian Academy of Humanities
ARC Asia Pacific Futures Research Network

Contact: helen.mcmartin@anu.edu.au

27 May 2009